DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. This application has been filed with informal drawings, which are acceptable for examination purposes only. Formal drawings will be required when the application is allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eberhardt et al. (US Patent 5,754,583).

(1) With regard to claim 1, Eberhardt et al. discloses a communication device and method of managing a finger assignment in a wireless communication device, said method comprising the steps of (abstract, col. 2, lines 41-51, col. 3, lines 12-17): receiving said finger assignment from a searcher portion of communication device (col. 2, lines 41-51); determining a signal-strength for said finger assignment (col. 2, lines 41-51); enabling said finger assignment for a combine operation if said signal-strength for said finger assignment satiates a first signal-strength threshold (col. 2, lines 41-51). However, Eberhardt et al. does not disclose preventing said finger assignment from being de-assigned if said signal-strength of said finger assignment satiates a second threshold, said second signal-strength threshold being less than said first signal-strength threshold; and preventing said finger assignment from being de-assigned if said signal-strength of said finger assignment satiates a second threshold, said second signal-strength threshold being less than said first signal-strength threshold (col. 7, lines 52-61, col. 8, lines 24-30).

(2) With regard to claim 2, claim 2 inherits all the limitations of claim 1.

Furthermore Eberhardt et al. discloses the step of determining a time period over which said signal-strength of said finger assignment satiates said second signal-strength threshold (col. 2, lines 60-67, col. 2, lines 1-5).

(3) With regard to claim 3, claim 3 inherits all the limitations of claim 2. Eberhardt et al. further discloses the step of preventing said finger assignment from being de-assigned if said time period satiates a time threshold (col. 3, lines 12-17, col. 10, lines 19-25).

(4) With regard to claim 4, claim 4 inherits all the limitations of claim 2. Eberhardt et al. further discloses the step of allowing said finger assignment to be de-assigned if said finger assignment fails to satiate said time threshold (col. 2, lines 56-59, col. 9, lines 66-67, col. 10, lines 1-8, 11-13, 25-30).

(5) With regard to claim 5, claim 5 inherits all the limitations of claim 1. Eberhardt et al. further discloses the step of allowing said finger assignment to be de-assigned if said finger assignment fails to satiate said second signal-strength threshold (col. 7, lines 52-54, col. 8, lines 12-18).

(6) With regard to claim 6, claim 6 inherits all the limitations of claim 1. Eberhardt et al. further discloses the step of demodulating said finger assignment (col. 2, lines 24-40, col. 5, lines 13-32).

(7) With regard to claim 7, claim 7 inherits all the limitations of claim 1. Eberhardt et al. further discloses the step of filtering said signal-strength of said finger assignment as determined in step (b) (co. 5, lines 27-28, col. 6, lines 66-67, col. 7, lines 1-3).

(8) With regard to claim 8, claim 8 inherits all the limitations of claim 1. Furthermore, Eberhardt et al. discloses the step of categorizing said finger assignment into one of a plurality of states based upon said signal-strength of said finger assignment (col. 4, lines 63-67, col. 11, lines 29-31, col. 12, lines 43-48, 55-67).

(9) With regard to claim 9, claim 9 inherits all the limitations of claim 2. Eberhardt et al. further discloses the step of categorizing said assignment into one of a plurality of states based upon said signal-strength of said finger assignment and based upon said time period over which said signals strength exists (col. 11, lines 33-37).

(10) With regard to claim 10, claim 10 inherits all the limitations of claim 8. Furthermore Eberhardt et al. discloses evaluating said finger assignment for said combine operation or for de-assignment based upon its state (col. 11, lines 65-67, col. 12, lines 1-11, 63-67).

(11) With regard to claim 11, claim 11 inherits all the limitations of claim 1. Furthermore, Eberhardt et al. discloses in (Fig. 1) a transceiver (100); a processor, coupled to said transceiver (122); and a computer readable memory unit (122) coupled to the processor, containing program instructions stored therein that execute, via said processor (col. 3, lines 48-56, col. 4, lines 24-31, col. 5, lines 32-36).

2. (12) With regard to claim 12, claim 12 inherits all the limitations of claims 11 and

3. (13) With regard to claim 13, claim 13 inherits all the limitations of claims 12 and

4. (14) With regard to claim 14, claim 14 inherits all the limitations of claims 12 and

5. (15) With regard to claim 15, claim 15 inherits all the limitations of claims 11 and

10. (20) With regard to claim 20, claim 20 inherits all the limitations of claims 18 and

(21) With regard to claim 21, claim 21 inherits all the limitations of claim 1.

Eberhardt et al. further discloses a computer readable medium containing therein computer readable codes for causing an electronic device to implement a method of managing said multi-path signals (col. 5, lines 32-36).

2. (22) With regard to claim 22, claim 22 inherits all the limitations of claims 21 and

3. (23) With regard to claim 23, claim 23 inherits all the limitations of claims 22 and
